Old Republic Home Protection Expands Sales Team in Mid-Atlantic Region

SAN RAMON, CA (September 22, 2009)

Through a mix of strategic planning and expansion of its sales force, Old Republic Home Protection, Inc. (ORHP) is growing its business in the Mid-Atlantic Region. To support this growth, ORHP announces the addition of Account Executive Rosana Green in the state of Ohio. At a time when many competitors in the home warranty industry are reducing staff and consolidating their sales focus, ORHP's position of strength and leadership in the home warranty industry continues to grow.

Rosana brings a wealth of experience in the real estate industry to this challenging position. She is described by clients as energetic, dependable, and professional, and is known for her excellent follow-up, communication skills, and providing win-win solutions for her clients. Rosana remains actively involved in the real estate community, and is well respected among her peers for her honesty and strong work ethic. "My commitment to my clients goes beyond providing excellent service," Rosana states. "I take great pride in developing lasting relationships based on trust, reliability and a genuine concern for my client's business. I have the highest confidence in the Old Republic Home Protection warranty product, and I look forward to sharing it with the real estate community in Ohio."

As a leading provider in the home warranty industry, Old Republic Home Protection provides comprehensive coverage at an affordable price. And now, through this expansion, the company plans to further increase market share and its ability to provide unparalleled service to homeowners and the real estate community in the state of Ohio.
