Old Republic Home Protection actively markets and supports the Latino community in the Baltimore, Maryland area.

SAN RAMON, CA (November 16, 2007)

To support the needs of the Latino home buying and selling community in the Baltimore area, Old Republic Home Protection is one of the first Home Warranty Companies to make their Home Warranty Plan available in both English and Spanish. This ensures Spanish-speaking homeowners are better able to understand how their home warranty coverage can protect their investment, and their budgets, from the high costs of repairs and replacements on covered home systems and appliances.

The Real Estate community in Baltimore has taken a proactive stance to assist the Latino community with bilingual resources, and Old Republic Home Protection is excited to be part of that movement. Old Republic Home Protection is proud to have Terry Crawford in Baltimore as their local Account Executive. Terry speaks fluent Spanish and is able to present the home warranty benefits to Real Estate agents in Spanish and/or English, depending on the needs of the office and its clients.
